5. DEĞERLENDİRME / EVALUATION

5.1. PROGRAM ÇIKTILARI ÖLÇÜM SONUÇLARININ DEĞERLENDİRİLMESİ / EVALUATION OF PROGRAM OUTCOMES MEASUREMENT RESULTS

In the Fall semester of the 2024–2025 academic year, all courses offered by the Faculty of Law and included in quality assessments were evaluated as "sufficient." However, in the Spring semester, the LAW 105 Civil Law I course was classified as "insufficient." Upon examining the distribution of student achievement, it was observed that the assessment tools did not sufficiently align with the learning outcomes of the course, which is believed to have negatively affected student performance. Since the same course was classified as "sufficient" in the previous semester, it will be subject to course monitoring in order to determine whether the current inadequacy stems from the assessment and evaluation practices.

5.2. EĞİTİM AMAÇLARININ DEĞERLENDİRİLMESİ / EVALUATION OF EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

In order to evaluate the educational objectives, a meeting was held with student representatives of the QME team to gather their opinions and suggestions. Additionally, a Google survey was prepared and sent to the Faculty of Law Advisory Board. The results obtained from both sources will be presented below in order.

5.2.1. OPINIONS OF STUDENT REPRESENTATIVES

The main issues highlighted based on the feedback received from our student representatives are listed below:

- The decrease in the number of full-time faculty members and its direct negative impact on course quality and the sustainability of education,
- The ineffectiveness of the academic advising system and the absence of a functional mentoring mechanism within the faculty,
- The inadequacy of the elective course pool, and the lack of practical and interactive structure in the existing elective courses,
- The insufficient or superficial coverage of key HMGS courses in the Bilkent curriculum, which puts students at a disadvantage in exam preparation,
- The lack of regular participation in international competitions (such as Vis Moot, Jessup), raising concerns about the potential loss of Bilkent's strong tradition in this area,
- The suggestion to consider implementing an undergraduate assistantship system – similar to the practice at Koç University – in order to enhance both practical training and academic support processes,
- The perceived inefficiency of non-law courses, and the need to make them more functional and meaningful by establishing clearer connections with legal education.

One of the educational objectives of our Faculty is to ensure that its graduates pursue their professional careers with a strong sense of justice, equality, and high ethical standards. Do you believe that the graduates of Bilkent University Faculty of Law embody these values in their professional lives? 4 responses

- Yes - 2
- No - 0
- No Opinion - 2

If you selected "No Opinion" please add comments: 2 responses

1. I have seen a declining trend in these qualities in recent graduates. This is very likely attributable to numerous causes including the erosion of the rule of law and decreasing trust in the legal profession that leads to Bilkent graduates pursuing alternative career options or an easier way to earn money.
2. I graduated 19 years ago so it is not possible to comment on the current status.

Which of the following educational objectives of the Faculty do you think Bilkent University Faculty of Law graduates possess? 4 responses

- A solid legal foundation and strong reasoning skills - 1
- Proficiency in foreign languages and the ability to pursue a professional career in different countries - 2
- Leadership qualities - 0
- Sufficient knowledge to successfully complete graduate/doctoral studies - 0
- Interdisciplinary knowledge to connect law with other fields - 1

How effective/sufficient do you think the Bilkent University Faculty of Law curriculum is in achieving the educational objectives listed above? Do you think there are any shortcomings in the curriculum that need to be addressed? 4 responses

1. I feel that Roman law and international law issues have to be discussed on a case-by-case approach.
2. Bilkent was always characterized by its extensive curriculum that exposed graduates to many legal areas. This exposure and diversity in content led graduates to develop a sense of legal reasoning as it led them to understand that all fundamental principles of law (e.g. law of obligations, commercial enterprise law etc.) were the bases for the more specialized legal fields (e.g. intellectual property law). The number of elective courses in private law has also decreased. I would suggest further diversification in this area. The faculty curriculum is also not currently fully aligned with the legal professions entry exam (HMGS) which should be concerning for the Faculty as this will have a direct impact in the upcoming years on the quality of students that prefer Bilkent over its competitors in Ankara (such as Ankara, Hacettepe, TOBB, Başkent and HBV). Finally the Faculty does not have a legal ethics or foundational legal skills course that can take the students through professional obligations that they will likely face during their careers (such as confidentiality obligations, conflicts of interest etc.) and sharpen skills that will help them in their chosen profession (such as legal research over an area that is not black and white, persuasive writing, client interviews, etc.).
3. The curriculum should include focus on leadership skills
4. While the theoretical base is strong, students could benefit from more structured clinical legal education opportunities, such as legal clinics, or externships with law firms and public institutions. Although legal theory is well-covered, more emphasis on legal drafting (contracts, pleadings, memos) could further equip students for professional life. Courses or workshops on negotiation, client communication, and legal ethics may help round out the skill set required in real-world practice.

What are the key qualities and skills your sector expects from new graduates? To what extent do our graduates meet sectoral expectations? Are there any new trends or skills you believe should be included in our educational objectives and curriculum? 4 responses

1. There should be more focus on Roman law, international law and international humanitarian law.
2. The practice of law as an attorney requires (i) a solid legal foundation, (ii) reasoning that includes creativity, and (iii) an unshakeable sense of ethics. Bilkent was always top-tier in Ankara for all these qualities and skills, and very competitive in İstanbul. Bilkent's competition is picking up the pace very rapidly. I don't think that there are new trends or skills that should be included in the curriculum, the fundamentals will still be there even if the entire legal profession switches to working from home and utilizing AI.
3. Ability to integrate AI to legal work
4. I think my answer above is the answer for this question.

Do you have any suggestions on how our Faculty can enhance its collaboration with the professional sector? 4 responses

1. Faculty can enhance its relations with Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Turkey, International Court of Justice and its affiliated bodies, as well as International Development and Law Organization (IDLO)- I have served 7 years in the Advisory Board of IDLO.
2. More workshops and more elective courses to enhance its collaboration with the professional legal sector. Bilkent is a first tier Faculty of Law and it would be easy for Bilkent to attract talent for workshops and elective courses.
3. Via mentoring and internship programs not only with law firms but also with the corporate companies like P&G would offer different alternatives to students
4. Structured internship and externship programs, guest lectures,
